

Walks in Warks covers 21 delightful walks in the historic county of Warwickshire. Ranging from 4.5 miles to 9 miles in length, several are rarely walked. Many pass through areas that have a rich social and industrial past: Atherstone, once the felt hat making heart of the country; Coleshill, a town granted a market charter by King John in 1207, at the same time as Liverpool, Leek and Great Yarmouth; Meriden, the geographic centre of England; the Stairway to Heaven on the Grand Union Canal at Hatton and Earlswood with its famous lakes. All walks have been walked in the past three years, some as recently as 2013.
